

FAMI-QS supports the launch of Feed Additives Americas 2018 by Feedinfo

Feed Additives Americas 2018 is Feedinfo's first regional event for the specialty feed ingredients sector in North, Central and South America and fully supported by FAMI-QS. The conference will be held at Hilton Miami Downtown on the 12th and 13th December 2018.

Featuring internationally-renowned speakers and local experts, Feed Additives Americas 2018 will offer unbiased opinions giving delegates an accurate picture of the industry and the chance to meet new people and explore new opportunities in North, Central and South America.

Topics to be addressed include:

- How additives users across the region view speciality feed ingredients
- Political developments that could impact agricultural businesses
- Key issues regarding product registration as part of our regulation panel and new policies being implemented
- Opinions from the biggest players in the North, Central and South Americas sectors as part of the Feed Additives Leaders Panel
- An integrators panel will allow attendees to gain insight into the challenges of the antibiotic legislation in the US and other challenges feed additives users face
